GAME TIME!

Go outdoors and play a family game of basketball, baseball, or some other game your family enjoys playing together. If the weather is not good for an outdoor activity, select a board game that everyone can play. Choose one family member and ask that person to “be like Abram” and choose another family member to go first at the game. Play one round of the game and then repeat the process of choosing who will go first.

TOGETHER TIME!

Read the Bible story of Abram allowing his nephew Lot to choose first which land to settle on. (Read Genesis 13:1-12.) Talk about places and times when members of your family could let others choose first. Designate one day as “Be Like Abram” Day and encourage everyone to let others choose first all day long. At the end of the day, ask each person to share how he or she let others choose first. Pray that God will help your family “be like Abram” every day!
